

Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Millie Lee Sage, 81, of Glenwood, who died Friday. Burial was in Glenwood Cemetery.

She was a member of the Glenwood Methodist Church and widow of W. T. Sage.

Surviving are two sons, Wallace B. of Prescott, Allen Lee of Texas; two brothers, A. H. Wade of Little Rock and Lester Wade of Blevins.

High Court Ruling Favors Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court threw out today a New York law which makes Communist party membership grounds for dismissal of state university and colleges teachers.

The high court also declared unconstitutional a 1917 New York law which made "the utterance of any treasonable or seditious word or words or the doing of any treasonable or seditious act" ground for dismissal from the public school system.

The court split along liberal-conservative lines as it issued its ruling by a 5-4 vote.

"Birth Tree"

When a new child is born, many European farmers plant a "birth tree" and the welfare of the child is believed to be connected with the tree's growth. In some districts of Switzerland, a pear tree is planted for a girl, an apple tree for a boy.

Baker Goes Back on Stand Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bob Baker resumes his witness chair defense today against charges of tax evasion and larceny of $80,000 in campaign contributions.

His chief lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, is expected to wind up quickly his questioning in U.S. District Court of the former secretary to Senate Democrats.

Then it's up to Justice Department prosecutor William O. Bittman to try in cross-examination to shake Baker's story that he collected nearly $100,000 in campaign contributions from California savings and loan executives in late 1962 but turned the money over, as he was supposed to do, to the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr.

The California financiers earlier in the two-week-old trial testified the funds were intended for distribution to members of Congress. Kerr, an Oklahoma Democrat and oil-gas millionaire, died Jan. 1, 1963. Williams says a large part of the cash was found in Kerr's Washington safe deposit box.

The government charges Baker kept about $80,000 for his own uses, including financing of his hard-pressed Carousel Motel at Ocean City, Md.

Baker contends he overpaid his income taxes for 1961 and 1962. The government accuses him of evading some $22,000 in taxes.

In a delayed report, the U. S. command said that two other 7th fleet destroyers, the Godard and the Keppler, destroyed or damaged a radar site, seven cargo boats and two guns in a shore battery around the Vinh area in North Vietnam last Thursday.

B52 bombers made two raids during the night. One wave hit at trench positions in the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam. Another formation struck at suspected troop concentrations 26 miles north of Saigon at dawn.

American pilots flew 66 missions over North Vietnam Sunday, and U. S. spokesmen said the northeast monsoon was beginning to return after letting up for the past week.

Saigon's big Tan Son Nhut Airbase was put on a brief alert today apparently as a result of differences within the ruling military junta.

The alert, reported to have been called by the Vietnamese air force, sealed off the military side of the base for a time but the main gate later reopened to normal traffic. A 105mm howitzer and an antiaircraft gun that had been drawn up at the gate were withdrawn.

The best available information was that the alert was ordered because of the expected return to Saigon of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co, the defense minister and deputy premier.

Workers Out and Garbage Just Piles Up

YORK, Pa. (AP)—The cartons were filled to overflowing with garbage. Some of the debris had fallen to the pavement, littering the sidewalk and spilling over into the gutter.

"Awful sight ain't it mister?" the man said.

It was.

This was no alleyway, no slum tenement backyard. The man was standing on a corner in York's Continental Square, just across the street from the York National Bank.

Continental Square, and almost every other street in York are covered with garbage and litter. In some places, boxes filled with trash are stacked at curbside higher than parking meters.

The refuse has been piling up since last Dec. 28. That's the day the city's 50 garbage collectors walked off the job because Mayor John L. Snyder refused to give them a raise.

Actually, the workers walked off their jobs for the first time on Oct. 8. It was an on again, off again proposition until the mayor's Dec. 28 turndown precipitated a final walkout.

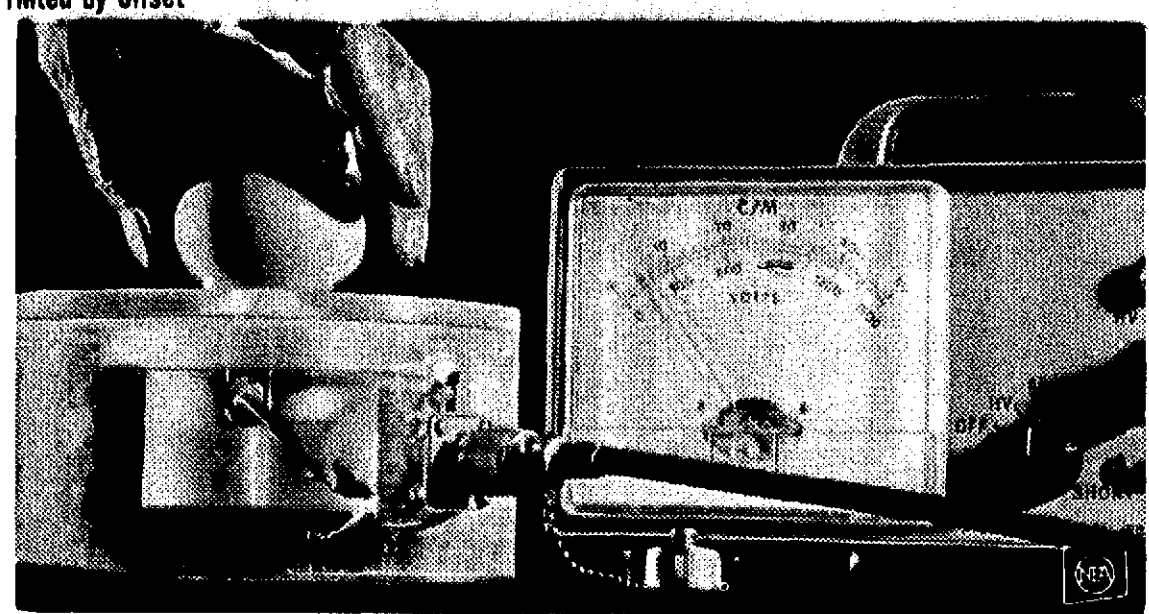

York, situated in Pennsylvania Dutch country in the southeastern part of the state, is a prosperous, usually picturesque community.

The 50,000-plus residents of York are outspokenly proud of their community.

But they're not bragging today. They're angry and frustrated, not certain who's at fault, but they feel somebody has got to take action soon.

"I've lived in this town all of my life," a woman in her late 60s said. "I was walking down the street the other day and a rat ran across my foot. Nothing like that has ever happened here before. It's a disgrace."

The stacked up garbage is a health menace and a fire hazard. Both city and state health officers have warned that there is "evidence of rodent activity" in the streets. They say the rats could become a serious problem if the garbage continues to accumulate.

STRONGER EGGSHELLS may be the result of this experimental gauge developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Called a backscatter gauge, it can measure the fragility of an eggshell in seconds. Such a gauge could assist poultry breeders in establishing lines of laying hens that produce better-protected eggs. An estimated 3 per cent of the 62 billion eggs marketed in 1965 were broken before reaching the consumer.

Saving Time Bill Stirs Controversy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A bill introduced in the Arkansas House Jan. 12 has stirred up quite a controversy throughout Arkansas.

The measure, by Rep. Bennie Ryburn Jr. of Monticello, calls for the state to remain on Central Standard Time.

Congress passed legislation last year ordering that every state go to Daylight Saving time between April 30 and Oct. 29 unless a state exempts itself by law.

Generally, the battle lines are drawn between the rural and urban centers.

Persons in rural areas prefer standard time, especially farmers, says the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation.

However, city dwellers say it would not be feasible for Arkansas to remain on standard time of surrounding states go to saving time.

Ryburn said DST would force school children in rural areas to leave their homes before daylight in order to catch buses. He

Kerr Tells of Battles at the U of C

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—"During 14½ years I have fought many battles, a great many more than ever met the public eye," said Clar Kerr last weekend after being fired as president of the world's largest university. "I won a great many of those battles."

The soft-spoken educator did not elaborate, but the high points of his career as head of the University of California already were history.

Most of the headlines sprang from the flagship Berkeley campus, largest in the nine-campus system, where loyalty oaths, free speech, filthy speech and finally a Navy recruiting table occupied the spotlight.

In Kerr's administration the Berkeley campus became battleground for some of the most controversial social and political issues of the day, as well as an esteemed educational and scientific center.

In 1952, Kerr was named the first chancellor on the Berkeley campus—a selection that was made as a move to heal the ### breach between the regents and the faculty over a loyalty oath dispute.

During the dispute Kerr was chairman of the Academic Senate Committee on privilege and Tenure that strongly recommended the retention of the faculty members who refused to sign the controversial oath.

The State Supreme Court later declared the oath unconstitutional.

In 1958, Kerr succeeded Robert Gordon Sproul as president of the university.

In the years that followed, communism remained a top of dispute at Berkeley, but even more explosive issues began to emerge.

During the Republican National Convention in San Francisco in July 1964, supporters of then Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, complained that followers of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, were recruiting political workers on the Berkeley campus in violation of university rules.

That fall, university officials announced that long-standing rules against political recruiting and fund-raising "mounting political and social action" on the campus would henceforth be enforced.

The enforcement move led to a series of confrontations between the university and young activists led by a philosophy student from New York named Mario Savi. The group called itself the Free Speech Movement.

Discussions between the FSM and the university bogged down and finally collapsed. On Dec. 2, 1964, Savi led about 1,000 persons, including some 100 nonstudents, into Sproul Hall, the Berkeley administration building, for an all-night protest sit-in.

DOESN'T LIKE ABBREVIATION

Dear Helen: Maybe I'm more persnickety than most, being a San Francisco person who can't stand "Frisco," but when I read "Xmas" for Christmas, I shudder. What do you think about this nickname for a holy day?—FROM THE CITY

Dear FTC:

I think it's "holy" inadequate! "Most people don't know Christ well enough to give him a nickname," comments my husband Bob, who makes most of the astute remarks around our house. —H

Dear Helen:

I went with a man for three years, and we were engaged for one year, though he was working in another state most of that time. We planned to be married in his home town about 2,000 miles away from where I live in Massachusetts. I couldn't get away when he left for home, so I was going to join him in December for a Christmas wedding. He stopped by my apartment and picked up all my clothes except the few I needed, and also my shower gifts and hope chest filled with linens. Foolish me, I thought this would save shipping charges, him taking them by car. We were going to live out there.

Two weeks later, he wrote that he had got together with the girl he used to date in high school, and wanted to break the engagement. I called him, and found out it was really definite—no wedding—so I asked him to please send back my things.

It has been over a month and I've written all kinds of letters begging for my belongings. He ignores them. He's never home when I call, and his mother sounds pretty vague. I have no clothes, no hope chest and no man, and I'd like to get at least the first two back. Him, I could do without! Please tell me how!—ALMOST BARE BUT BURNING

Dear ABBB: One registered letter from a lawyer will get more action than a dozen from you, especially if he directs Rover Boy to ship your belongings back C.O.D., saving him freight charges.

This transaction may cost you the price of a new dress, but you're lucky at that. As his new wife may agree in a few months. —H

Dear Helen:

Reading the letter about "key chain kids" got my dander sky high. Why didn't the mother of the eight-year-old just give her daughter a key to her house instead of letting her wear a useless one for "status." Being a stay-at-home mother, she would probably be there to welcome her daughter after school, but there are still times when a housekey is necessary. This business of not giving a child a key to the home until he is 16 or 18 is stupid. Our children received their keys when they entered kindergarten. No name or address was put on the key holder, in case it got lost. They also had keys to the car trunk and door so they could get in, even if we weren't around.

I never worked away from home home, so the keys weren't necessities, but they made our children feel trusted. We had no big problems, as do some of these parents who think the mere fact of being home when their children are is enough.—MRS. A.E.T.

Dear Helen:

You said "working mothers have it tough enough..." They don't have it tough at all! That is, if they have able-bodied husbands. They choose to work because they want luxuries and escape from the dull routine of house chores. They want independence, and an excuse to avoid PTA, Scouting, church community endeavors—woman's real place in life.

Women who stay at home where they belong are twice as busy, with gardening, plumbing, car washing, house painting, plus normal duties, and watching all those key chain kids the neighbors foist on them.

I am a Stay-at-Home wife, who furnishes transportation, acts as substitute mother at Scouts and church socials, I wipe noses, break up fights, take them home from school when they are sick—while their mothers maintain lovely homes with the children seldom get to enjoy. Working mothers aren't the deprived ones. Their husbands and children—and their neighbors—are! —INEZ

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — For daytime television viewers this was the week when Lisa Hughes came back to "As The World Turns."

"As The World Turns," it should be explained, is a daytime serial, or soap opera, on CBS that has been a favorite for so many years it probably should start dropping five years from its age. It moves inexorably from emotional crisis to crisis and is sneered at by people unable to watch television regularly during the daylight hours.

For the faithful fans, the return of Lisa Hughes was pretty exciting, for she had been a sort of antithesis of the show for six years. In May, 1965, on the heels of the success of "Peyton Place," CBS decided to spin a nighttime soap opera off the popular daytime series. So one day Lisa Hughes, played by attractive Eileen Fulton, boarded a Chicago-bound train in Oakdale, scene of "As The World Turns."

That night a new program, "Another World" had its premiere and was built around Lisa's new life in the big city.

As it turned out, "Another World" never made the ratings grade and quietly disappeared with the new season in September. Lisa returned briefly to Oakdale and daytime TV long enough to wrap up some loose ends and then last returned to Chicago, a second husband and oblivion—until last Monday.

Miss Fuller, who had majored in music and voice in college, was busily launching a nightclub career.

"But now I'm back in Oakdale," she reported. "People who came to see me as Eileen Fulton were marvelous but they also made me realize how important Lisa Hughes has been to me. I just don't want to lose those people."

"The audience seems to despise Lisa but love her at the same time. She has spunk and ambition, but she's — well, she's devious and does awful things that cause trouble."

Stitchin' Time

By JUDY LOVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Point your knitting needles in fashion's most important direction! For knitters who want a first-class wardrobe, all paths point to Paris and one of the most famous fashion landmarks—the House of Chanel.

"La look" that's yours for the knitting is Chanel-inspired design. Now is the time to start your spring planning and your finest knits should have a French flavor.

Gabrielle Chanel offers you ideas that promise a slimmer, smarter silhouette. Chanel, the miracle maker of fashion, has been influencing the world of women and what they wear for several decades. She made her debut in fashion circles as a milliner, back in the '20s. During the heyday of great ornate hats Chanel defied the times and advocated small, simple head-bugging designs.

She made sun-tanned skin fashionable. When Chanel bobbed her hair, Paris and the world clipped along after her. The lady also is responsible for slingback shoes and ropes and ropes of costume jewelry.

The Chanel look—her famous straight-line silhouette, often a slim skirt topped with a braid-edged straight jacket — is a classic today.

The simplicity of Chanel-inspired fashion carries over to coats and toppers, too. For you knitters, this means the easy, fluid and flattering lines of Chanel can be worked into the best looking coats—knee-length or cropped—that you've ever owned.

The trim, slimming cardigan coat pictured here is a good example of knitting with a French accent. This particular open-patterned stitch is a cinch for experienced knitters—but you must know your Ps and Qs! (It's not an easy pattern, but if you're a skilled knitter, you'll enjoy the compliments it will bring this spring.)

If you're a less-skilled knitter, don't despair! Paris and Chanel are still yours to command. The leaflet giving you complete, clear directions for the open-loop, lacy-patterned cardigan topper, also offers another French-inspired shortie that's easy to knit with big needles. Directions are for the new '60s style, but you can knit it any length you prefer, of course. Simply add more rows of basic stockinette. The classic Chanel coats are adaptations from the Bernat Fashion Workshop.

Both of these smart hand-knits are slimming styles and can be made from size 10 to 20. So here's a winner to make everyone happy.

For leaflet S107 featuring two handsome spring coat patterns, send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, c/o your local paper, P. O. Box 503, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y.

Not Recommended Now!

In England, during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, the recipe for a beautiful complexion was to take a very hot bath seasonally to induce perspiration, then wash the face with plenty of wine to make the skin fair and ruddy. We don't advise that you follow low suit.

CHANEL ALL THE WAY.

The classic look inspired by the famous French designer is translated into a full-length cardigan coat. This handsome topper with open-lattice pattern is simple for a skilled knitter.

The Hope Bobcats combined a balanced scoring attack and the home court advantage to knock off the scrappy Warren Lumberjacks, 72-65, in a 4AA duel at Jones Field House Saturday night.

Although they grabbed the early lead, the Cats still had to put down several Warren threats later in the game to salvage the victory. To do this they relied on the favorite strategy, the fast break.

As is their usual practice the Bobcats were trying to fast break with every defensive rebound that they got. And as usual it paid off. If they weren't able to get the ball down the court fast enough to get the running lay-up, they still had a good chance of setting a shot before the Warren defense could set up.

A flawless first quarter for the Cats allowed them to command a comfortable lead of 24-13 by the first stop. However the Jacks came roaring back and with still over two minutes left in the first half Warren was ahead by 37-35.

Bobcat Luther Shaw managed six straight points via the fast break route in the final one minute of play before intermission to put the Cats back out front, 43-39.

The third quarter saw the Bobcats starting to pull away again but time after time the Lumberjacks came up with the big plays to keep the game within reach. The quarter ended 65-46 in Hope's favor.

The margin of difference reached as much as 16 points through the final quarter but the Jacks were able to chop it to 7 when the Bobcats subs came in to finish the game.

The win ran the Bobcats district record to 4 wins and 2 losses after three weeks of losses after three weeks of 4AA action. Their season action was boosted to 8-6.

Three Hope players scored high in double figures. Danny Griffith led the pack with 20 points, accompanied by Stan Parrish with 19, and Shaw with 17. Bryant had 21 points for Warren.

In the junior high contest the Bobkittens fell to a second half Warren rally, 51-44, after having led consistently by 10 points through the game.

For the Kittens, who are winless in district play it was their most impressive showing of the year. A pair of crucial technical fouls hurt the Kittens cause amid a flurry of Warren scoring in the fourth quarter.

The Bobkittens early lead which ran to 11 points in the first quarter gradually faded through the second period into a Hope lead of 23-18 at the halfway point.

That's when things started really getting close. With only three minutes left Warren had taken a 9 point advantage. But the Kittens fought back to within 4 points in the final minute only to fall short. Ronnie Brown led Hope with 15 points followed by David Still who had 8.

Pair to Lead U.S. Olympic Skating

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Gary Visconti of Detroit and Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs, Colo., figure to lead American hopes in the 1968 Olympic figure skating competition.

They were crowned men's and women's national champions here Sunday. Visconti, 21, dethroned Allen Scott, 17, of Smoke Rise, N.J. for the men's crown while Miss Fleming won her fourth women's title.

An 18-member national team, plus two alternates, was named after the competition for the world meet at Vienna Feb. 28-March 5 by the U.S. Figure Skating Association. The team will also compete in the North American championships in Montreal, Feb. 10-12.

Miss Fleming, clad in gossamer gold with a matching band around her jet-black hair, won mainly on the brilliance of her style after dominating the compulsory figures.

In the senior pairs, champions Cynthia, 18, and Ronald, 20, Kauffman of Seattle, Wash., dominated an eight-team field

UCLA Could Hit Trouble on Tour

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

If UCLA's prodigious Bruins have trouble getting excited about their trip to Chicago this week, Coach John Wooden probably will be glad to settle for a repeat of last Saturday's let-down.

The top-ranked Bruins ran their unbeaten string to 14 games over the weekend by thrashing Portland 122-57 and California Santa Barbara 119-75.

"We let down a little Saturday," said Wooden — with a straight face.

UCLA should get stiffer arguments from Illinois and Chicago Loyola Friday and Saturday nights in the Windy City, but the ever-cautious Wooden wonders whether his young club might be taking the trip for granted.

UCLA raced to a 10-0 lead over Portland Friday night and breezed home, 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor leading the way with 27 points. Then the Bruins wrecked Santa Barbara's floater defense Saturday night and topped the century mark for the seventh time.

"We felt the only way to defend against them was to let one of their men go," said Santa Barbara pilot Ralph Barkley. Lucious Allen, the man most often free as the Gauchos concentrated on blanketing Alcindor.

The Bruins meet Illinois in the nightcap of Friday night's doubleheader after Chicago Loyola and Brigham Young collide in the opener. Saturday, they try to avenge last season's 102-96 overtime loss to Loyola in part of a tripleheader that also pits Brigham Young against sixth-ranked Texas Western and Illinois against Notre Dame.

While UCLA was running up points last weekend, three other national powers — No. 2 Louisville, No. 8 Florida and No. 9 New Mexico — were running aground.

Gordon Smith's 20-foot jump shot with five seconds to play lifted Cincinnati past Louisville 59-58, tightening the Missouri Valley Conference race. The Cardinals, now 15-2 over-all, still lead the MVC with a 4-1 mark, but Wichita, 3-1, Tulsa, 2-1, Cincy, 3-2, and Bradley, 3-3, all are within range.

Tennessee, led by Ron Widby's 13 points and a tenacious defense, subdued Florida 56-42 for its second victory over the Gators in six days. The Vols, who trail first-place Vanderbilt by one-half game in the Southeastern Conference, visit Kentucky tonight while the Gators try to rebound at Georgia.

Brigham Young trimmed New Mexico 89-73, extending the Lobos losing streak to four games, as 6-foot-11 Jim Eakins scored 15 of his 21 points in the first half. The victory gave the Cougars a 4-0 Western Athletic Conference margin.

Texas Western, 12-2, humiliated Weber State 72-38 and seventh-ranked Kansas, 12-3, topped Iowa State 73-65. Third-ranked Houston, No. 4 North Carolina, No. 5 Princeton and No. 10 Providence were idle.

Unbeaten Toledo came from behind in regulation play and trimmed Villanova 72-65 in overtime for its 10th victory; once-beaten Western Kentucky ran its winning string to 14 by downing LaSalle 95-86 and Southern Illinois, the nation's top small college team, topped Wichita 77-55.

Cincinnati Plans to Grow Players

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Robert L. Howsam, an advocate of "growing your players" through a strong farm system, is the new general manager of the Cincinnati Reds of the National League.

Howsam, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals since 1964, was named Sunday to succeed William O. DeWitt. DeWitt has been serving as interim general manager since he sold the baseball club recently to a group of Cincinnatians for an estimated $7 million.

DeWitt will stay on as a consultant. Announcement of Howsam's appointment was made by Francis L. Dale, club president, and J. Williams, Chairman of a selection committee. Dale also is president and publisher of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Howsam was given a three-year contract. He said he had no contract with the Cardinals and that he understood there might be an announcement in St. Louis Tuesday about his successor.

Coach Calls Team Bunch of Quitters

By JOE MOOSHL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Coach Toe Blake called his Montreal Canadiens "a bunch of quitters" and virtually dismissed their hopes of repeating as National Hockey League champions Sunday night following a 4-1 loss to the Chicago Black Hawks.

"I never thought I'd have a team that would quit," shouted the infuriated, gum-chewing Blake, who has guided the Canadiens to eight champions in the last 11 years.

The Canadiens, who obviously received an earlier tongue lashing from Blake, sat dejectedly and stripped their uniforms slowly.

The host team opened up a five-point lead over second-place New York and 15 over the fourth-place Canadiens.

"I've been accused of not playing everybody," said Blake, fuming. "All I know is I got 18 guys dressed and they all played . . . or shall I say they were on the ice."

Blake then took a crack at the Chicago fans who were on Montreal goalie Gary Bauman. At one point Bauman tossed a puck into the stands and the fans retaliated with paper cups, an egg and an orange.

Eric Nesterenko, filling in for injured Chico Maki on the Bobby Hull line, scored two goals and Doug Mohns and Dennis Hull accounted for the others. Montreal's only goal was scored in the second period by John Ferguson on a power play.

Blake wasn't the only unhappy NHL coach. New York's Emile Francis saw the Rangers blitzed by 13 goals in consecutive losses to Boston and Detroit. The Bruins won Saturday 6-2 and the Red Wings Sunday 7-2.

Boston completed its weekend sweep with a 3-1 decision over Toronto Sunday. The Maple Leafs had been the victims Saturday night of Detroit's first road victory this season when the Red Wings ended a 19-game drought with a 5-4 victory. Montreal tied Chicago 3-3 in Saturday's other game.

Tigers Get 2nd Victory in a Row

BY JAMES HAMILTON

Friday night here in Harris Gymnasium, the Yerger Tigers were once again victorious as they defeated the Bobcats of Fordyce by a score of 64-58. This time the Juniors made it a double smash defeating their opponents 51-36 in an excitingly played game.

The Junior Boys in anxiety for their second victory of the season, managed to defeat the Juniors of Fordyce in one of their more diligently played games.

In the first quarter, the scores were very close at 6-5 and no prediction could be made as to which of the teams were better. But by the end of the first half, the Tigers proved themselves to be a prospective winning team even though they only held a 4 point margin as the score was 23-19.

The Juniors of Fordyce came back to take the lead in the third quarter, but the Tigers fought back desiringly and tied the score at the end of the third quarter at 30-30.

In the fourth quarter action was then displayed by both teams trying to counteract each other. Fortunately the Tigers continued to increase their lead and defensively held their opponents to an additional of only 6 points with final score being 51-36.

Previously the Junior Tigers had been leaning on the arms of Frank Prater for their victories. But this time Frank Prater scored only 23 points and was assisted by John Dudley who scored 19 points. Other scores for the Tigers were Larry Muldrew with 5 points, Lee Davis and Charles Johnson with 2 points.

After the Junior Boys had gotten their victory, the Senior Boys tried for their second straight and were successful in a close but tremendously fought game.

By the end of the first quarter both teams were even in showing their maneuvers and other abilities. The score was 14-13 in favor of the Tigers.

The Tigers were never behind in either quarter, but they only led by short margins by the end of each quarter. In the third quarter, the Tigers had seemed to have lost their momentum but the clutch shooting of Spenser Brown helped to give them back the lead.

In the final quarter, the Tigers led by a margin of 13 points and very confidently to another victory. With only a minute left in the game, THE Senior Bobcats reduced the margin to only 4 points and were threatening to take over the lead but didn't have enough time. The final score was 64-58 in favor of the Tigers.

The leading scorers for the Tigers were Spenser Brown with 23 points, Ernest Stodakes 19, and Johnnie Smith 13 points.

East Slugs Out Victory Over West

By FRANK O'REILLY

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys and the all-stars of the National Football League's Eastern Division, thinks his conference has closed the talent gap with the West—and the Pro Bowl supports his contention.

Landry's Easterners slugged out a 20-10 win over the West in a persistent rain Sunday before 15,062 fans. The success was the second in a row for the East stars, who, a year ago, dumped their Western counterparts, 36-7.

Landry's own Dallas Cowboys made a case for the East just three weeks ago when they came within a whisker of tying Western winner Green Bay in the NFL title game. The Packers prevailed, 34-27, but the Cowboys proved a worth contender.

Now Landry was a winner and smiled as he praised his team: "We had a fine game. Defensively, we made the key plays and that decided the ballgame. Offensively, we missed a lot of chances, of course, but I thought (quarterback Don) Meredith played well in the first quarter and (quarterback Frank) Ryan played well in the second period. Then, in the second half we lost momentum."

For the first 30 minutes, the East was dominant to the point of embarrassment. Pittsburgh's Mike Clark opened the scoring with first-period field goals of 13 and 17 yards.

In the second quarter, Cleveland's Ryan hit teammate Gary Collins on a 24-yard pass that put the ball on the two-yard line. Moments later, Johnny Roland of St. Louis smashed through for the score.

Then defensive back Larry Wilson, also of St. Louis, intercepted a pass and Ryan found Collins in the end zone with an 18-yard scoring throw.

Additionally, Clark missed three field goals in the half and, statistically, the East outplayed the West better than 2-1.

The West defense rallied in the second half and the offense moved the ball well, but strong eastern pass rush and three interceptions preserved the lead.

Bruce Gossett of Los Angeles kicked a 27-yard field goal in the third quarter and San Francisco's Ken Willard caught a 51-yard touchdown pass from Bart Starr of Green Bay in the final quarter—but the West never really threatened to pull out a victory.

Despite the West's defeat, Chicago's exciting runner, Cayle Sayers, was voted the outstanding back of the game. The second-year pro from Kansas gained 140 yards in just 11 carries — including a twisting, 52-yard sprint.

Floyd Peters, a nine-year defensive tackle for the Philadelphia Eagles and the East, was named the top lineman, primarily for his intensive pass rush that kept the Western quarterbacks off balance much of the time.

Big 3 in Stretch at Crosby Meet

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, each a winner of more than $100,000 in 1966, led the race for top cash in Bing Crosby's $104,500 Golf Tournament heading into the stretch today.

Casper, at 215, led by a stroke as the only golfer, among the 168 pros who started, to better par for 54 holes. Pressing the U.S. Open champion at 216 were Masters' champ Nicklaus and Palmer, the leading money winner of all time.

They battle 75 other finalists for a $16,000 top prize. Casper led the pro golfers last year with $121,944. Nicklaus finished second at $111,419 and earned $110,467.

Golfers dueling over the long Pebble Beach course, attested one of the world's best, where one errant shot can ruin a round.

All the finalists have played three courses already — Cypress Point, Spyglass Hill and Pebble Beach — with varying success. The tournament runs a day longer than usual.

After Sunday, Bill Parker of West Orange, N.J., surprisingly found himself in fourth place with a 70 and 217.

Jim Colbert of Kansas City, Kan., Jerry Pittman of Locust Valley, N.Y., each with 74, and PGA champ Al Gelberger of Carlton Oaks, Calif., with 71, were all at 218.

For the third 18-hole test, Nicklaus scrambled at soggy Spyglass Hill, Palmer charged at Cypress Point and the methodical Casper passed them both with his routinely spectacular game at Pebble, where twice he has won.

The San Diego Star set a tournament record of 277 in 1958 and won again in 1963. His closest competitors haven't captured the Crosby although each has finished in the runner-up spot.

Leading the pro-amateur teams into the final was the brother combination of Mike and Frank Souhak with a best-ball 192 even though pro Mike didn't qualify among the individual pros with a 228. The cutoff was 227. Older brother Frank, with an eight handicap, had helped with 36 strokes.

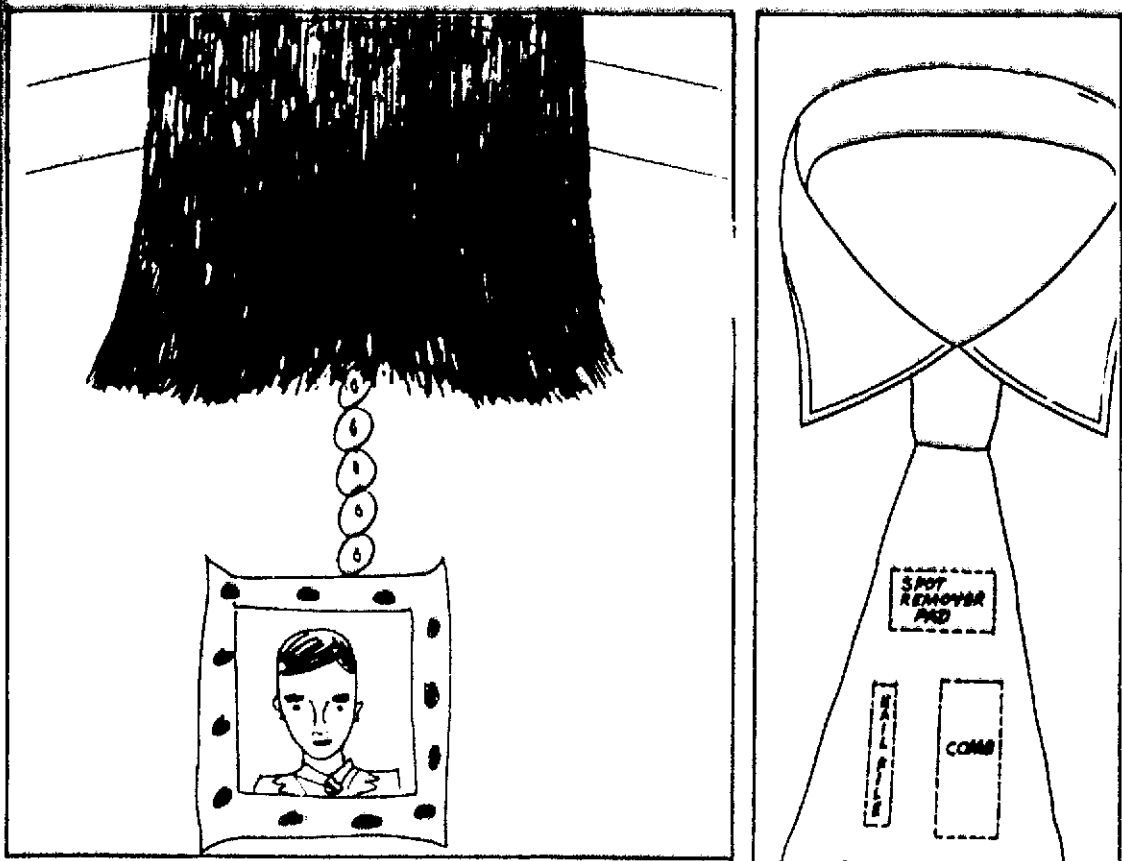

Honolulu's Ted Makalena and Paul Spengler were second at 193 with Makalena still among the contestants for pro honors with 220.

TCU Leads Southwest Conference

By JACK DONOVAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Byron Brannon announced last week he would retire at the end of this, his 19th season as basketball coach at Texas Christian.

The announcement came at a time when the Horned Frogs are leading the Southwest Conference with three victories and no defeats. It might be an added incentive for them to give their coach a bowing out championship.

Brannon, 58, more popularly known as Buster, has won six conference titles—four at Texas Christian and two during an 11-year head coaching stint at Rice.

One more championship will bring him even with coach Doc Hayes of Southern Methodist.

This is the first season since TCU's 1959 championship year that it has been in contention for the title. The Frogs end a 17-day layoff Saturday afternoon Arkansas in Fort Worth.

A loss would drop them behind Southern Methodist, 4-1, which has only a non-conference game at Oklahoma City University Wednesday night on tap this week.

A victory could give them momentum to enter a rugged five-game—four on the road—stand in the following two weeks. They meet Southern Methodist at Dallas Jan. 31, go to Rice Feb. 4, return home for Baylor Feb. 7 and travel to Texas Tech Feb. 11 and to Baylor Feb. 14.

Of the Frogs' three victories only one was achieved away from home.

Southern Methodist stayoned on the heels of TCU last week by beating Arkansas 69-59 at Fayetteville, but Texas lost ground by losing to Texas A&M 68-59 at College Station.

In the only other game last week, Texas Tech edged New Mexico State 63-60 for the Raiders' third victory in 14 games.

The semester break continues to cut into the schedule this week. Baylor has two games to round out the slate. The Bears face Tarleton State at Stephenville Wednesday and go to Texas Tech for a conference clash Saturday.

Despite Rice's absence from activity last week, the Owls still lead with 261 points. But Baylor's Jimmy Turner, also idle, has the best per game average of 29.7 points.

More Loud Talk About Another Fight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm going to beat him real good and shut his mouth," predicted middleweight champion Emile Griffith as he awaited his title defense against Joey Archer tonight at Madison Square Garden.

"I beat him before and didn't get the decision so this time I'll make sure it's not even close," rebutted Archer, the 29-year-old challenger from New York.

The 28-year-old champion, winner over Archer by majority decision last July 13, is a 7-5 favorite to make it two straight in the scheduled 15-rounder.

It will be telecast live nationally and to Mexico but New York will be blacked out. Starting time is 10 p.m., EST.

Garden officials forecast a crowd of 14,000 will pay upwards of $100,000 at prices ranging from $5 to $20. Griffith has been guaranteed $75,000 against 45 per cent of all receipts. Archer will get 15 per cent of all receipts.

Archer was a 13-10 favorite in the first fight which drew 13,776 customers and a gate of $102,246.

The return bout has been postponed twice, first by Archer's virus infection and then when Griffith twisted his right ankle in training, tearing cartilage in the ankle.

This will be the 15th title fight for Griffith, who held the welterweight crown before he dethroned Dick Tiger as middleweight king of April 25. The champ will be aiming for his seventh straight victory and eighth consecutive triumph in a world title contest.

Griffith's record is 51-7, including 18 knockouts. He has been stopped once.

Archer has a 46-3 record, including only nine knockouts.

Site of Next AFL Star Game Uncertain

By RON BERGMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The site for the next American Football League All-Star Game — if there is a next one — remains uncertain.

The vagabond contest stopped in Oakland last Saturday and the East took its first-ever victory by beating the West 30-23 behind Boston quarterback Babe Parilli, at 36 the oldest player on the field.

A two-day downpour created a 10-yard-long ankle-deep puddle on the north side of the Oakland Coliseum turf.

An announced crowd of 17,876, second smallest in the six-year history of the game, and the national television audience got plenty of thrills from freak plays caused by the muddy going.

The AFL All-Star Game has been played in San Diego, Houston and Oakland. It got within one day of appearing in New Orleans two years ago when Negro players walked out after saying they had been insulted.

The site for the next one remains undecided, although the league meeting Feb. 13 in Miami may select it. One week later, the National Football League gathers in Hawaii and this could have some bearing on the AFL game.

For on Sunday, the NFL All-Star Game — called the Pro Bowl — drew only 15,062 in Los Angeles for the smallest crowd at that event in its 17 years.

Players from both leagues have suggested a Super All-Star Game because the merger has produced the Super Bowl and drained interest from each league's all star contest.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said at Oakland that each league has a contract with its respective television network through 1970 and that the Los Angeles newspaper publishers have "seven or eight years" to go on a contract for the NFL clash.

He said he doubted whether a merged game could come about next year.

While the speculation was going on in the stands, the top AFL players were slipping and sliding on the field. The miserable weather conditions caused nine fumbles, eight interceptions, two safeties and numerous other soggy mishaps.

The abnormal nature of the game was shown by the East scoring 30 points despite gaining only 168 offensive yards, an All-Star record.

The winning touchdown was a 17-yard Parilli pass to Houston's Charley Frazier, who fell in a pool of water with a big splash short of the goal line but surfaced and ran over with 7:42 to go.

That earned the East, which had been behind 23-2 with 19 minutes to go, $1,000 each and left the West with $600 paychecks. It also earned Parilli the press box vote as most valuable offensive player. Verlon Biggs of New York was named most valuable defensive player.

Biggs ran an interception back 50 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter. The pass from Len Dawson of Kansas City traveled about six inches after slipping out of the quarterback's hand.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With the long 1967 track season—indoor and outdoor—just beginning, the athletes are breaking from the starting blocks at a measured pace.

Winners in the Los Angeles Invitational indoor meet Saturday night before 11,346 fans in the Sports Arena struck a repetitive theme.

Jim Ryan, who won a tactical mile in 4:02.6, said, "Last year I reached my peak too early. This year I want to come along a little more slowly. That's why I was very satisfied with my performance."

Jim Greele, the 30-year-old veteran who outspurred Gerry Lindgren to take an 8:45.0 two-mile, said, "I'm going to concentrate on the longer distances. I'd like to build up for the three-mile outdoors."

And Richmond Flowers, the Tennessee football star whose 7.1 won the 60-yard high hurdles, admitted he was looking ahead. "I can hardly wait to get outdoors. I'm aiming for 12.9 in the 120-yard high hurdles."

The present world record is 13.2, held by Martin Lauer of Germany and Lee Calhoun of the United States.

Pole vaulter Bob Seagren came within a slight push of breaking his world indoor record of 17-1, set last month. Seagren cleared 17-2, but failed to push the pole backward as he thrust his body over the bar.

The pole fell under the bar and into the pit, nullifying the vault. Seagren had to settle for 16-6.

Tracksters Taking It Slow Now

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With the long 1967 track season—indoor and outdoor—just beginning, the athletes are breaking from the starting blocks at a measured pace.

Winners in the Los Angeles Invitational indoor meet Saturday night before 11,346 fans in the Sports Arena struck a repetitive theme.

Jim Ryan, who won a tactical mile in 4:02.6, said, "Last year I reached my peak too early. This year I want to come along a little more slowly. That's why I was very satisfied with my performance."

Jim Greele, the 30-year-old veteran who outspurred Gerry Lindgren to take an 8:45.0 two-mile, said, "I'm going to concentrate on the longer distances. I'd like to build up for the three-mile outdoors."

And Richmond Flowers, the Tennessee football star whose 7.1 won the 60-yard high hurdles, admitted he was looking ahead. "I can hardly wait to get outdoors. I'm aiming for 12.9 in the 120-yard high hurdles."

The present world record is 13.2, held by Martin Lauer of Germany and Lee Calhoun of the United States.

Pole vaulter Bob Seagren came within a slight push of breaking his world indoor record of 17-1, set last month. Seagren cleared 17-2, but failed to push the pole backward as he thrust his body over the bar.

The pole fell under the bar and into the pit, nullifying the vault. Seagren had to settle for 16-6.

Spring Hill Girls Win Trophy

In the tournament at Saratoga Saturday the Spring Hill girls walked away with the trophy after a victory over Murfreesboro 79-78. Earlier in the day Spring Hill advanced to the finals with a 72-54 win over Bright Star.

In the two games Spring Hill played Saturday Betty McNeill, star forward, personally accounted for 89 points which should be something of a record.

The Murfreesboro's senior boys defeated Nashville 67 to 59 for the tournament title.

Russell Leads Celtics to Close Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sign of the times in the National Basketball Association?

Bill Russell, the man who makes perennial NBA champion Boston go as a player and coach, scored his high of the season, 28 points, in helping the Celtics beat Los Angeles Sunday.

It was tough—121-120 in overtime.

On the other hand, Russell's chief adversary, Wilt Chamberlain, the driving force behind Philadelphia in its effort to unseat Boston, added one to his league record of consecutive field goals made.

It was easy—He didn't even play.

When Chamberlain made 15 baskets in 15 attempts against Los Angeles last Friday night, it was announced the performance gave the star center a record of 27 straight. The streak included the last shot against Detroit Wednesday and 11 against Chicago Thursday.

"That's wrong. It's 28, said Chamberlain. "I hit the last two shots against Detroit."

Sunday, the 76ers announced that the Detroit statistician confirmed Chamberlain's claim.

In other games Sunday, St. Louis edged New York 104-101 and Chicago nipped Baltimore 118-114.

Baltimore topped Los Angeles 126-119, Cincinnati trounced Detroit 122-108 and New York beat St. Louis 124-114 in Saturday's action.

The Celtics' John Havlicek's basket with 34 seconds left tied the game at Boston at 107-107 and sent it into overtime. Then, trailing 121-120, Boston got the ball with 19 seconds remaining, and Larry Siegfried was fouled by the Lakers' Walt Hazzard while attempting a shot. He made both free throws.

Sam Jones led Boston scorers, with 31 points, and Bailey Howell added 23, Jerry West and Elgin Baylor scored 25 each for Los Angeles.

Four players scored 18 points apiece for St. Louis, which took a 52-49 halftime lead on two baskets by Paul Silas and never trailed thereafter. Hitting 18 for the Hawks were Player-Coach Richie Guerin, Bill Bridges, Lou Hudson and Len Wilkens. New York's Walt Bellamy scored a game high of 21, and Willis Reed contributed 18.

Chicago blew an 18-point lead but held on to down Chicago. Jack Martin's field goal broke a 114-114 tie, and Jerry Sloan's two shots clinched it for the Bulls. Bob Boozer led Chicago with 26 points, and Guy Rodgers to 24, Gus Johnson scored 22 for Baltimore.

Hines Ready to Challenge Sprint Champ

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — Texas Southern's James Hines is ready to challenge the claim of Nebraska's Charlie Greene as king of current sprinters after Hines twice equalled the world indoor 60-yard dash mark of 5.9 seconds at the NAIA Track Championships.

After that, Hines looks forward to the 1968 Olympics and a shot at pro football as a flanker. As he puts it, "I'm as tall as Bob Hayes of Dallas and about 10 pounds lighter."

Hines hasn't played football in college, but he was a halfback at Oakland, Calif., for McClymonds High School, which has produced such sports headlines as Frank Robinson, Bill Russell, Curt Flood, Vada Pinson and Ray Norton.

Hines, Greene and Hayes are among six men who share the 5.9 record.

Greene and Hines have met only twice and it was a dead heat both times, at the National AAU 100-yard dash finals last year and in the Athens Invitational at Oakland Jan. 15, when both ran 6.1.

Hines was named most outstanding athlete of the 14-event NAIA card over teammate John Hartfield, whose 7-1 broke the auditorium high jump mark.

Australia's Tony Benson ran a sparkling 8:57.2 two-mile, edging his countryman, George Scott of New Mexico, by about two strides. This was the best two-mile ever on the small, 22-year-old board track, 12 laps to the mile.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Ernie Terrell took a day off from training today and the other heavyweight champion, Cassius Clay, planned a sparring session in addition to the usual three miles of dawn roadwork in preparation for the Feb. 6 showdown fight in the Astrodome.

Clay exercised everything but his jaw muscles Sunday, going two rounds each against sparring partners Mel Turnbow and Jimmy Ellis, taking two rounds Testing of the Star's 8x10-inch Berkey Direct Screen System machine, second to be installed by an American newspaper, is scheduled to begin today in our news darkroom.

Experts from the Berkey Technical Corp. and Eastman Kodak Co. expect to spend today and Tuesday hand-making a perfect set of four-color process negatives, after which the data used to make this set will be fed into the computer. Thereafter the machine will be operated by push-buttons, and our staff is supposed to be able to turn out the base materials for printing a full-color picture in about an hour.

As to when we get the first actual photograph into the Star, your guess is as good as mine. The big Fairchild color press will do the job, all right, but first we have to master the task of producing four matching negatives and their press-plates, one each for black, red, blue and yellow. This is the most difficult achievement in the history of printing. The idea was pioneered by the National Geographic magazine in co-operation with Eastman Kodak Co. Then it spread to other magazines and the metropolitan newspapers.

We are about to introduce it in this country daily—employing the second automatic Berkey machine to be delivered to any newspaper in America. It will mark the climax of our new offset printing plant installed in 1955-56.

In the spring of 1965 the campus of the University of California was torn by student rioting and a breakdown in law and order. The university president, Dr. Clark Kerr, was a nationally known educator, but in handling rebellious students living off the bounty of California taxpayers he lacked a lot of being the administrator that adults expected him to be.

The issue over Kerr and the campus rebels was thrust into the California gubernatorial campaign last summer, student organizations campaigning for reelection of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, a Democrat—with, so Ronald Reagan, the Republican candidate, said, Kerr's tacit consent.

Reagan was elected by a landslide—and this week-end the Board of Regents fired Kerr as university president.

Kerr calls it "politics". Of course it is "politics"—but at this long distance it makes the same picture California voters saw close up: Political rowdiness that started on a supposedly non-partisan college campus and spread state-wide. President Kerr was thoroughly discredited when he permitted the rioting to run on in the spring of 1965 and his firing is nearly two years overdue. Even ex-Gov. Brown has the candor to infer that his support by the campus rebels and Kerr's friends was one of the reasons he was defeated.

And if Reagan is moving into Berkeley with a hard-fisted administrator it's about time. You can't imagine such rioting on the campus of a church school, where the theme is study rather than play, and the people of California have waked up to the fact that when discipline quits a campus mischief moves in.

New Arkla
Manager Here

Albert M. Zimmerebner, 25, has been named manager for Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. at Hope. His appointment was announced by W. R. Stephens, chairman of the Board and president of Arkla Gas.

He succeeds the late C. W. Bridgers.

A native of North Little Rock, Zimmerebner attended schools at Jacksonville and Villonia, and first joined Arkla in 1957. He was named plant operator at England in April 1966.

Zimmerebner married the former Anna Ruth Walls, and they have one child.

Meets Are Planned by UC Students

By JACK SCHREIBMAN
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Staggered by the surprise firing of President Clark Kerr of the University of California, leaders of 87,000 students on nine UC campuses planned mass meetings today to decide student action in the crisis. Also, the quest begins for Kerr's successor.

The Board of Regents, by a 14-to-8 vote, last Friday ended the 8½-year career of Kerr as president of the nation's biggest university system. Gov. Ronald Reagan, an ex-officio regent, voted against Kerr, 55.

Reagan said during his election campaign that Kerr permitted campus political activity in behalf of Reagan's Democratic opponent, then Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

"We have no plans for a protest today," said Dan McIntosh, student body president of the Berkeley campus, largest of the UC system.

McIntosh said he would call for a discussion of the Kerr ouster, along with Reagan's controversial proposals to charge tuition and cut the UC budget, both of which Kerr had pledged to fight.

At two campuses in Southern California there was talk of classroom boycotts to protest the firing of Kerr.

At Santa Barbara, student body president Jeff Jeffcoat urged organization of a university-wide boycott. And at Irvine, Dave Altschuler said his student group was pushing for an immediate one-day strike today.

Should protests of this kind materialize, it would be the first time in two demonstration-wracked years that Kerr would have militant student support of himself. He has come under fire for the demonstrations that have hit Berkeley, and some believe this unrest contributed to the regents' decision to fire him.

Most of the student leaders appeared to take McIntosh's discussion-first view.

In a message addressed to regents over the weekend, 81 Berkeley professors said: "The nature and timing of the action taken Friday seem to give evidence of an attempt to exert political influence over the university."

"This cannot be tolerated from either the right or the left of the political spectrum."

"We call on regents to demonstrate that their action did not result from political pressures coming from the state administration in Sacramento."

Regents must knuckle down immediately toward choosing a new president. Faculty members, who will have their meeting Tuesday, hope to exercise strong influence in the choice.

Encourages
Public to Help C of C

"Everyone is invited to meetings of the Chamber of Commerce and we encourage citizens of Hope to attend them," Chamber President Lester Sitzes told members of the Hope Rotary Club on Friday at a club meeting in the Town and Country. "Our biggest problem is lack of communication with citizens, and it is our desire to serve all the people, not merely a few."

The speaker explained the importance of keeping a community's attributes constantly before those people who might be attracted to it, industrially or in other beneficial ways. "After all, they grease the wheels that squeak the loudest," he said.

Work of the Chamber of Commerce was summarized and the poor financial support given to it by local citizens was lamented.

In conclusion, President Sitzes encouraged a good attendance at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting on February 3.

Club President Paul Klipsch welcomed members and guests, Dr. Emmett Thompson, Jack Beatty, Dr. Bruce Love, Dr. Rudolph Burrough of Magnolia, and Ed Jordan and John Blundell, both of Texarkana.

Johnson Bids for Soviet Pact, More
Money for the War

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration bids on Capitol Hill today for approval of a U.S.-Soviet consular pact and more money for the Vietnam war.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in testimony at an open hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, argues the case for Senate ratification of the consular convention signed in 1964. It would pave the way for each country to open consulates outside the capital of the other but faces opposition.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, are to tell a closed meeting of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Defense Appropriations subcommittee why $9.4 billion more is needed for the war this fiscal year.

McNamara and Wheeler also are to explain the Defense Department's $73-billion request for the budget year beginning next July 1.

The administration spokesmen are expected to run into critical questioning from both hard line and soft line foreign policy advocates.

In advance of the Foreign Relations Committee session, Senate Democratic Leader Mike

Fulbright Says Ky Has to Talk Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said Sunday that the United States should oust the South Vietnam government if it refused to negotiate with the Viet Cong toward ending the Vietnam war.

Fulbright, speaking on the NBC program "Meet the Press," said the United States should put pressure on the South Vietnamese to talk with the Viet Cong.

He said Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam is "there only because we put him in" and "I don't think he would last two weeks without our support."

Fulbright said a constituent assembly being forced to adopt a new constitution and new government for South Vietnam "would be more likely to negotiate with the other Vietnamese for some settlement."

The United States should adopt a different attitude toward Vietnam, Fulbright said, one welcoming a compromise settlement rather than what he sees as insistence upon the enemy's surrender.

Meanwhile, a book authored by Fulbright and scheduled for publication today, included the prodding of South Vietnam as one of eight points for ending the war and shaping a general agreement with Red China to neutralize Southeast Asia.

The book, entitled "The Arrogance of Power," was published by Random House. It is an amplification of the senator's lectures at the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies.

Fulbright writes that any peace, even one forged by "total American military victory in Vietnam," would be in constant jeopardy until a United States-Red China power struggle is resolved.

He said the U.S. should prod Saigon into seeking negotiations with the Viet Cong and at the same time join the South Vietnamese in proposing cease-fire talks with the Viet Cong and Hanoi.

Fulbright said that if no agreement to ending the war could be reached then the U.S. should consolidate its forces in strongly fortified areas and "keep them there indefinitely."

This, he said, would show that the United States "cannot accept defeat or disorderly withdrawal from Vietnam" and that complete military can be accomplished "only by sacrifices disproportionate to America's security interests" and by increasing the suffering of Vietnamese civilians and the danger of war with Red China.

Mansfield said he hopes the committee will act "on the merits of the convention" and not be swayed by a mail campaign mounted by conservative groups opposing the agreement.

The committee approved the convention regulating U.S.-Soviet consular affairs in 1965. But Mansfield said in an interview that he held up Senate action "on my own responsibility" in the last Congress.

Mansfield said he had been concerned then that any chance for the Soviet Union to bring the Vietnam war to the negotiating table "would be dashed if the debate became too bitter."

But he acknowledged that it was doubtful the measure could have won the two-thirds approval required for the Senate to give its consent.

Results of the consular debate may indicate how receptive the Senate is this year to other administration attempts to build bridges to the East, such as the recently signed space treaty and proposals for increasing trade with the Soviet bloc.

Hawkins Asks
Dismissal of Charges

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said Saturday he was seeking dismissal of conspiracy charges against five persons, two of whom immediately responded with statements saying they wanted no favors from Hawkins.

The two, Everett Ham of North Little Rock and Dr. Charles F. Wells of Morrilton, said that the questions surrounding their indictments were still unanswered and that they would like to resolve the matter in court.

Hawkins said Saturday he had asked Prosecutor Jeff Mobley to seek dismissal of the conspiracy charges against Ham, Wells, Thorp Thomas of Little Rock and Leon Brents and Chester Boyer of Conway County.

The indictments were returned after Hawkins was hauled before a justice of the peace on charges stemming from alleged mishandling of county funds.

Hawkins wrote Mobley that "since the circuit court and the (state) Supreme Court have exonerated me there is no personal feeling by me for their prosecution."

Ham said Hawkins' claim of exoneration "is simply not true. There is still pending in the courts an action that calls on the sheriff and others to account for an explain collection and handling of fine moneys in Conway County over a period of years."

Ham said questions raised in previous years are still unanswered and that he is "as anxious now as ever that these questions be answered."

Wells said Hawkins' offer was typical of "the state of our county government, which has been one of the principal contentions of my involvement in our local political situation."

"Action should be taken by the prosecutor to bring the matter to trial for resolution of the issue," Wells said.

Wells, who referred to Hawkins as the "high sheriff," also questioned Hawkins' remark that he had no "personal feeling" for their prosecution.

"Why should his 'personal feeling' enter into the performance of his official duty?" Wells asked.

Man Unloading
Dirt Killed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—J. D. Burton, 28, of Tucker was killed Saturday as he was attempting to unload some dirt from a dump truck while working on a dirt removal job in connection with the Arkansas River development project.

Officers said Burton's head was crushed between the truck bed and the truck frame when he attempted to pull a cable free which had caused the load to jam about halfway up.

Civil War
Continues in China

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai reportedly committed Red China's 2.5-million-man army to crush Mao Tse-tung's opponents as news of revolt and resistance crackled out of the embattled mainland today from frozen Manchuria to Kwangtung in the south.

Japanese newsmen, quoting Peking wall posters, said Chou's announcement at a rally in Peking Sunday was the first statement by a top government official that troops would be used against Mao's foes.

The posters said Chou declared: "The People's Liberation Army is the most important tool of the dictatorship of the proletariat. It will resolutely suppress the handful of counter-revolutionary elements who are trying to destroy the proletarian great cultural revolution."

Japanese correspondents in Peking also reported purge chairman Chen Po-ta and Mao's wife, Chiang Ching, had ordered the people of the capital to establish a revolutionary city government composed of workers, peasants, soldiers, revolutionary students and teachers.

Quoting wall posters, the correspondents said 40 Maoists were injured, 10 captured and many were missing after a clash with students and workers supporting President Liu Shao-chi in the Manchurian industrial city of Chang Chun Jan. 21. The posters said the "reactionaries" were assembling a force of 60,000 persons from the Manchurian provinces of Kirin, Liaoning, and Heilunkiang to give battle to "revolutionary rebels" converging on Chang Chun.

Chinese arriving in Hong Kong from Kwangtung said Mao's opponents there had been encouraged by reports that an anti-Mao army of peasants, workers and former soldiers had seized control of much of neighboring Kiangsi Province.

Western sources in Hong Kong said there were strong indications of sharply increased opposition to Mao in some areas of Kwangtung but cautioned that the reported "army" probably was no more than a group of Mao's opponents armed with clubs and hand weapons fashioned from farm and factory tools.

The arrivals from Canton also reported continued fighting between anti-Mao and pro-Mao forces in Kiangsi Province and the arrest or capture of some anti-Mao leaders in Nanchang, provincial capital of Kiangsi.

They said the Kiangsi news had been received in Canton via radio broadcasts from Nanchang Sunday night.

Crawford
Society of CAR Formed

The Joel Crawford Society of C. A. R. held its organizational meeting on Saturday, January 21, 1967 in the home of Mrs. Gordon Tyler, Senior organizing President. The Society was honored with the Regent of John Cain Chapter of D. A. R. Mrs. Catherine Howard. Mrs. Howard had the privilege of installing the first officers. The officers are President, Marjoria Royston; Secretary-Treasurer, Ellen Turner; Registrar, Gail Tyler; Chaplain, Nancy Martindale; Historian, Cheryl Tyler.

Nancy Martindale opened the meeting with appropriate prayers for the members of the Society. The meeting was continued by the American's Creed and C. A. R. Creed being said in unison.

Following the impressive installation of officers, Marjoria Royston read the objects of C. A. R. and was answered by the Responsibilities of members read by Gail Tyler.

Mrs. Howard talked to the children about C. A. R. work and of course, their responsibilities. The meeting was closed with a prayer for the new Society and members.

The name of the Society was selected prior to this meeting and to honor both the State Regent, Mrs. Edward Westbrook and the Senior organizing President of the local Society, Mrs. Tyler. Joel Crawford was a Revolutionary ancestor of both.

Johnson Proposes to
Up Social Security
Benefits by 15%

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sends Congress today his proposal to increase by at least 15 per cent the Social Security benefits received by 23 million Americans.

The message, whose major outlines were sketched by Johnson in his State of the Union message Jan. 10, is also expected to urge a raise in minimum benefits from $44 a month to $70 a month and a guarantee of $100 a month for persons with 25 years or more of coverage.

Johnson also said he would recommend an increase in the 1 mits retired workers can earn without losing Social Security benefits and an extension of medicare benefits to 1.3 million permanently and totally disabled persons under 65.

Johnson's proposals, scheduled for early scrutiny on Capitol Hill, will also likely contain schedule of increases in Social Security taxes to finance the proposed hike in benefits. Johnson did not discuss this in the State of the Union message.

But the latest actuarial estimates made by the Social Security administration are that the present revenues are sufficient to provide an increase in benefits of around 8 per cent. Johnson said his proposed increase would average 20 per cent — but the "first year cost at $4.1 billion.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has already said he will hold hearings on the President's proposal to raise Social Security benefits before consideration of Johnson's recommendation for a 6 per cent surcharge on income taxes.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said in outlining the GOP congressional program last week that Social Security benefits should be increased 8 per cent and that future increases should be pegged to rises in the cost of living.

The GOP leader said this could be done without an increase in Social Security taxes. While conceding this is so, Social Security officials say the result would be to freeze the present structure of Social Security by committing funds that would otherwise be available for expanded coverage for use in paying cost-of-living increases.

The Town & Country Restaurant was the scene of the Annual Jaycee Distinguished Service Awards Banquet, held Friday night, Jan. 20th. The recipient of the "Young Man of the Year" Award was Doctor Lowell Harris. The award was presented to Dr. Harris by Bob Moers, who was one of the winners of the 1965 Award.

Other recipients of awards were: Outstanding Educator, Tom Harwell; Outstanding Young Farmer, Wayne Griffith; and Outstanding Boss, Charles R. Wilburn.

Master of Ceremonies, Raymond Byers introduced the District Jaycee Vice President, Mr. David Keller of Texarkana.

Guest Speaker for the evening was Arthur L. Strech, Real Estate Broker and Developer of Hope. Mr. Strech challenged the Jaycees to give recognition to the rural communities of Hempstead County. The speaker pointed out that Hempstead lead all of the 17 Counties in Southwest Arkansas in the Dollar Value of Farm Products produced and sold according to latest published figures. He also pointed out that approximately 100 million dollars had been added to the overall economy in Hempstead County in 1966 through the production and sale of Agricultural Products.

Actress Ann Sheridan Dies at 52

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ann Sheridan, a red-haired beauty whose sister introduced her to film and as a practical joke, was an independent actress who was launching a new career in television when death intervened.

She died Saturday night, a month before her 52nd birthday. Even her closest friends said they were unaware of her illness.

Miss Sheridan's third husband, actor Scott McKay, was at her bedside when she died at their Hollywood Hills home. A friend said she succumbed to emphysema, a lung ailment. Two others said she died of cancer.

As the "oomph girl" of World War II, Miss Sheridan was a favorite pinup girl of the GIs. Her costars included Ronald Reagan, Gary Cooper, Cary Grant, Humphrey Bogart and Errol Flynn.

One of her three sisters, now Mrs. Leo R. Kent of Fort Worth, Tex., as a joke mailed a photograph of Miss Sheridan to Paramount Pictures while her sister was attending North Texas State Teachers College in her native Denton, Tex. The picture won the studios "Search for Beauty" contest and in 1933 Miss Sheridan's career was launched.

When she died, eastern television viewers were watching her television comedy series, "Pistols 'N' Petticoats."

Private funeral services were held Sunday.

Princess Ends Utah Visit

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Princess Irene of Greece has wound up her visit to Salt Lake City with a chorus of "Happy Birthday."

She joined Monday in a singing salute to her U.S. State Department escort, F. A. Van Reigersburg.

The princess, second in line for the Greek throne, then left for San Francisco where she will continue a six-week unofficial visit to this country.

Robinson Has Quit Banquet Circuit

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Frank Robinson, the slugging Baltimore outfielder who is collecting awards as rapidly as he did homers during the baseball season, said today that making the banquet circuit has delayed his recuperation from an operation.

"With some 20-25 dinners I haven't been able to exercise my right knee as I should," Robinson explained. "My right leg is 1 1/2 inches smaller, around the calf and thigh, than the other one, and I need to build it up."

But, Robinson added quickly he didn't see any reason why there should be cause for alarm.

"My doctors tell me that if the conditioning program they gave me is carried out," Robinson said, "I should be 100 percent by the time spring training starts."

Robinson made the comments after winning the S. Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year Award, adding to a prize collection that already includes the Most Valuable Player Award and The Associated Press' Male Athlete of the Year Award.

As for all the honors being heaped on him following his sensational 1966 season in which he won the batting triple crown in the American League while leading the Orioles to the pennant and a World Series triumph, Robinson cast himself as a stand-in for all his teammates.

"It feels great to win awards," Robinson said, "but I feel as if my teammates are being left out of it. I didn't do it all by myself. But someone has to take the bows."

Robinson is taking the bows for a season in which he was acquired by Baltimore from the Cincinnati Reds and proceeded to tear American League pitching apart, hitting .316 with 49 homers and 122 runs batted in.

The 31-year-old Robinson was an overwhelming winner of the Hickok Award in the balloting of a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters and was presented with a $10,000 diamondstudded belt at the annual charity dinner of the Rochester Press and Radio Club Sunday night.

Robinson received 91 of the 168 first-place votes and 302 points on a 3-2-1 scoring basis. Earl Starr, Green Bay's quarterback, was second with 26 votes for the top spot and 132 points. Pitcher Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers was third with 24 first and 101 points.

State to Try to Extend Lead in AIC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Defending champion Southern State will try to extend its Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball lead this week when the Mulrinders take on Harding and Henderson.

Southern State, sporting a 7-1 conference and 11-2 overall record, battles Harding at Searcy Tuesday night before entertaining Henderson at Magnolia Friday.

This week will be a light one in AIC circles. Harding entertains Ouachita Baptist at Searcy Friday night in the only other game before three clashes Saturday.

Saturday's slate matches Arkansas Tech and Arkansas College at Batesville, Tennessee; Martin Branch and State College of Arkansas at Conway; and Hendrix and Arkansas State Junior College at Beebe.

In Saturday's action, State College tripped Arkansas College 83-69, Ouachita beat Christian Brothers 69-68, Southern State bumped Austin College 59-52 and Delta State pounded Arkansas A&M 104-75.

State College vaulted to an 11-point halftime lead as Tom McKinney sank nine consecutive points. Mickey Johnson led the Bears in scoring with 19 points and McKinney added 16. Bill Coosey paced Arkansas College with 22 points and Jim Haney had 18.

Larry Bone tallied 20 points, Robert Corneliuss 14 and Tommy Patterson 12 in pacing the Ouachita victory.
Larry Whitley tallied 14 points, Butch Price 13 and Donnie Denton had 12 for Southern State.

Big Luxury Liner Still on Mudbar

By STRATTON L. DOUTHAT
FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—The skipper of a luxury liner which spent 49 hours stuck on a mudbar 800 yards off shore says an errant harbor marker was responsible for his ship's plight. But the U.S. Coast Guard disagrees.

"The reason we went aground was that one of the buoys was 100 yards further south than it should have been," Capt. Charles F. Troxel told newsmen Sunday night after his 563-foot vessel had reached port.

But a spokesman at the Miami Coast Guard station said "all navigational aids were operational at the time of the ground." He said an investigation was continuing.

The S.S. Atlantic, a sleek, white ocean cruiser, steamed off for Jamaica early today, hours after returning from its embarrassing voyage. The trip—scheduled as a seven-day tour of the Caribbean—lasted 49 hours, all of which were spent on a sandbar just south of the Fort Lauderdale harbor channel.

But the voyage ended Sunday night with sirens screaming, lights blazing, a band playing "When the Saints Go Marching In" and the ship's 313 passengers voicing their joy and waving streamers at friends waiting at the dock.

"It was a wonderful time of cocktails and parties. We were on our own private island," said Ben Rose Israel of Miami Beach.

Capt. Troxel said the 18,000-ton ship was not damaged. He said the safety of the craft had been verified by divers and the American Bureau of Shipping.

Everybody agreed that there was no panic and that no one was hurt. The captain said the vessel was leaving the harbor at about eight knots when the craft went aground. It took several tugs three tries at high tide before the Atlantic came free.

Troxel, 51, has spent more than 30 years at sea and says he has sailed from the harbor more than "200 times." A spokesman for American Export Isbrandtsen Lines, Inc., which operates the 13-year-old ship, said Troxel ranked third in seniority among 53 skippers.

Gerald Zornow, assistant public relations director for the firm, said more than two-thirds of the passengers—who paid from $215 to $475 for accommodations—had elected to continue on an abbreviated trip to Kingston. He said about half of the others said they planned to take later trips.

First evidence that Stone Age man existed was found at Chelles, France, in 1847.

HOW PRACTICAL IS ELECTRIC HEAT?

BETTER HOMES and GARDENS SAYS

"VERY"

In the November issue of Better Homes and Gardens, page 119, there is an article titled, "How Practical Is Electric Heat?". Here is what the first two paragraphs of the article say:

Today there can be but one answer: Very. If you have any doubts, consider these figures. Ten years ago only 300,000 U. S. homes were heated electrically. Today the figure is well over 2,000,000, and by 1980 the Federal Power Commission estimates that the number of electrically heated homes will total 19,000,000.

The explanation for this rather sudden development is simple: rates. Six years ago the average nationwide range of rates charged for electric heating was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents per kilowatt hour. Today it is 1 to 1 1/4 cents, and still going down. This means that it is now possible, in many sections of the country, to heat a home with electricity for about the cost of gas or oil.

How do you heat a house cheaply? Almost all

The article goes on to describe the various types of electric heat systems available and gives you practical, unbiased information on these subjects:

"Who's the best local source of information about electric heat?" "Who installs electric heating?" "Installation cost." "What about operating costs?" "Does the rate you pay for electric heating apply to water heating, air conditioning, cooking, lighting, etc.?" "Can you install electric heating in an old house?" "What do users like especially about electric heating?"

If you are a homeowner concerned with getting maximum cleanliness and comfort from your heating system with minimum expense and maintenance, you ought to read this article. If you do not have the November, 1966 issue of Better Homes and Gardens, just send us the coupon and we'll gladly mail you a complete reprint of the article. ## Old Napoleon Is a Cornerstone in the History of Arkansas

BY MAX LOVE, Travel Writer
Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission

On a bright sunny day during the summer of 1820, an unemployed former French general was exploring a steaming jungle-like piece of ground at the mouth of the Arkansas River—just south of where the Arkansas empties into the Mississippi—and being a man of imagination and with an eye for making a "fast buck," Frederick Notrebe concluded that "right here" was the ideal place to build a river port town.

Being a Frenchman who was very devoted to his former commander, Bonaparte, Notrebe decided to name his newly founded community Napoleon, and with all of this accomplished, he set out to make his town one of the most important river ports on the Mighty Mississippi. However wild his imagination, however broad his dreams, it's doubtful that Frederick Notrebe ever visualized just what impact his town of Napoleon would have upon Arkansas history. And its unlikely too, that he ever dreamed that one day—only 55 years after it was founded—that his town would be buried under mud and mire, a victim of the great and merciless river that it served.

From the moment it became a territory on March 2, 1819, Arkansas history moved at a rapid pace. The first Territorial Legislature met at Arkansas Post on July 28, 1819, and on June 1, 1821—about a year after Napoleon was established—the Territorial Capitol was moved to Little Rock.

On March 22, 1822, the steamboat "Eagle" arrived at Little Rock—with people and cargo that had been picked up at Napoleon.

By the time Arkansas became a state on June 15, 1836, Napoleon was a boom town, controlling most of the traffic on the Arkansas and White rivers. As one historian noted: "By 1836, Napoleon had become one of Arkansas' chief outlets on the Mississippi. Some of the stern-wheelers (steamboats) that ascended the Arkansas and White rivers were not adapted to Mississippi navigation and Napoleon was the transfer point from one type of boat to the other. The town was roaring and wide open, full of suave cardsharps and rough rivermen—not to mention pirates, cutthroats and the like."

On December 12, 1838, Desha County was established but no seat of justice was selected. During the first few years of its life, Desha County Courts were held on a plantation at Wellington. Finally, though, the citizens of the thriving river port town of Napoleon exerted enough pressure to have their community named permanent county seat. And, subsequently a county courthouse and a jail were built and old Napoleon continued to boom.

A combination steamboat-stagecoach line, from Napoleon to Pine Bluff by water, and then to Little Rock by road, was completed in 1853.

In 1855, the United States Government completed a three-story marine hospital in the town, accommodating 100 patients.

Napoleon was nearly destroyed by fire at the time of its capture by Federal forces during the Civil War. However, just before its capture, officials were successful in removing the county's records to Texas. This success was short-lived, though, since the Texas town later was captured and most of the records were either destroyed or mutilated to such an extent that they were of little value.

Also, during the occupation, Federal forces cut a bend on the Mississippi above Napoleon that caused the river to change its course and start eating away at the town—an action that eventually was to spell complete doom for the booming river port.

At the end of the War Between the States, the old marine hospital was leased as a temporary courthouse for Desha County while a new courthouse was being built. In the meantime, however, the Mississippi was continuing to eat away at the town and more and more of its citizens were moving down river about 20 miles to a new port, Arkansas City, which had been established in 1850.

In 1869, the new courthouse was washed away by a devastating flood and the new jail suffered so much damage that it was deserted. At the time of this damaging flood, the old marine hospital already had been washed into the river, and it was evident that the remaining buildings in the town also would soon be washed away.

By 1871, little was left of old Napoleon and the county seat was moved to Watson, where it remained for five years. In 1880, a new courthouse was built in Arkansas City, which, by this time, had replaced Napoleon as Arkansas' leading Mississippi river port and which also was experiencing a "rip-snorting" boom of its own. The new courthouse was occupied in December, 1880, and a new jail and offices for the county sheriff were completed in 1881.

By this time old Napoleon was gone—washed down the Mississippi—with only one old chimney standing above the muddy river waters to mark the spot where the onetime "hell-to-breakfast" river town had stood.

A decade after the old town died, Mark Twain wrote its requiem in his "Life on the Mississippi". It reads like this: "It was an astounding thing to see the Mississippi rolling between unpeopled shores and straight over the spot where I used to see a good big self complacent town twenty years ago. The town was the county seat of a great and important county; town with a big United States Marine Hospital; a town of innumerable fights—an inquest everyday; town where I used to know the prettiest girl, and the most accomplished in the whole Mississippi Valley . . . a town no more swallowed up, vanished, gone to feed the fishes; nothing but a fragment of a shanty and a crumbling brick chimney."

In its passing, though, Napoleon fathered another Mississippi River boom town—Arkansas City—which rose to even greater importance; which became even wilder, but this is another story. And we will tell it at a later date.

HOPE (ARK) STAR TOM TIEDE IN VIETNAM

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PLEIKU, Vietnam—(NEA)—The man has a square, sepia-colored face and his teeth are broken and black. He is dressed in a loin cloth and T-shirt. He sits in a tent at the Fourth Infantry Division.

"My name," he says, "is Puhi Hop."

"And your age?" someone asks.

"About 40, I think."

"And what are you doing here?"

"I was rescued," he says, "from the Communists."

As the man talks his eyes bounce pitifully from interrogator to interrogator. It is evident he doesn't understand. It is evident he is frightened. He smiles shyly in hope of a smile in return.

Puhi Hop, about 40, is a Montagnard tribesman. He is an incredibly innocent person, yet his life is a disgusting mirror of what often happens to the innocent in this cruel, confusing war.

Printed by Offset

"I was born in Plei Krung," he says.

"Your job?"

"I am a farmer."

"Are you married?"

"I was," he says, "but my wife has died."

The man's home is one of thousands of mountain villages in the Vietnamese central highlands. There, for most of his life, Puhi Hop lived in a house of straw and worked as a rice harvester.

His existence was meager, his comforts virtually nil. The village had no running water, no electricity, no engines. The wheel was perhaps the most modern native implement.

Thus protected, Hop never learned of outside civilizations. He was never schooled, never taught to tell time, never shown the marking of years. Even his language was given to him by word since the singsong dialect is not preserved in print.

Superstition was his religion, ox blood his favorite drink. Cattle dung would cure his wounds, witch doctors would chase away his woes and animal sacrifices would provide his entertainment.

Truly, he was raised a barbarian but, until recently, a more or less ignorantly happy one. He ate enough, drank enough, slept enough . . . his wife kept him warm on windy nights and his son provided him with a boast around the other villagers.

Not a wonderful life, perhaps, but at least a livable one.

Then, even the livability ended.

One day the Viet Cong swarmed into Hop's village with rifles and fierce commands. They wasted no courtesy. Hop and the others were told to henceforth raise their rice solely for the VC armies.

One man refused. He was shot, or perhaps hanged. Hop never found out. They just took the man away one day and never brought him back.

The VC stayed on. They supervised one harvest, and another and another. They confiscated all rice and permitted the villagers only enough (about a handful each day) to sustain life.

Without sufficient nourishment, Hop's wife died up. And without her milk, Hop's young son grew pale, became sick and died.

Shortly after, the wife was

THE MAN'S NAME is Puhi Hop. He is a Montagnard tribesman for whom the war is still a mystery.

He keeps searching the interrogator's eyes for a sign of sympathy.

"How long did the VC stay?" he is asked.

"Three rainy seasons."

"And then the Americans came?"

"Yes."

"And now you are safe."

"Yes," Hop says, staring at the strange white faces, "and now I am safe."
